Fujitsu Research Portal Privacy Policy

The personal information that you share in relation to your utilization of the Fujitsu Research Portal (the "Portal"), encompassing but not limited to your name, contact details, username and details about your use of the Portal, shall be utilized by Fujitsu Limited (located in Japan) for the following purposes:

- To register the user and create a user profile required to access the Portal.
- For account management and login authentication.
- To facilitate a search functionality where users can add other users as participants in their projects. This will only include sharing username and user ID as necessary.
- To distribute information and Application functionality as requested by you.
- To provide, improve and develop the functions and services provided by the Portal.

We use Microsoft, specifically employing Microsoft Forms, as a sub-contractor for the customer request form incorporated within the Portal (for example, when a customer asks inquiries or requests a sample source code). The particulars entered by you into the Microsoft Form will be processed by Microsoft in accordance with the terms and conditions of Microsoft, and these particulars will be stored within the United States of America.

If you are unable to provide personal information, you may not apply for the use of this Provided Function.

Fujitsu will handle your personal information appropriately in accordance with Fujitsu's Privacy Policy. [\[Fujitsu's Privacy Policy\]](https://www.fujitsu.com/global/about/resources/privacy/)

If you are an employee of Fujitsu group, your personal data will be processed in accordance with our Fujitsu employee privacy policy.

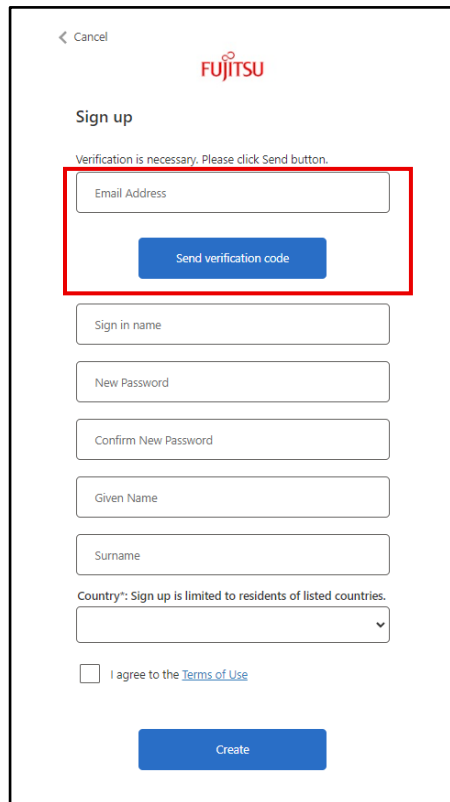

If you wish to disclose, correct, add, delete, or suspend the use of your personal information, please contact us as specified below.
